Edmund Rice Day Mass, Rostrevor College Community

FROM THE PRINCIPAL

Dear College Community

Welcome back to Term Two which promises to be another exciting one for the College. Over the holiday break some improvements were made to the campus including the installation of digital message sign on the corner of Glen Stuart Road and Kintyre Road, through the generous support of the Parents and Friends, along with the upgrade of the transportables to blend in with the cladding on the Rice Building. Work is about to commence on a 64 square metre pergola adjacent to the barbeques at the rear of the Pavilion. This project has come about through the donation of half the structure by 'Pergolas of Distinction' and the Parents and Friends. An upgrade to the Canteen is set to take place in the next Term holiday break.

Equally exciting was the opening of the Rostrevor College Stepping Stone Early Learning Centre. Those who attended the Open Day were all impressed by the facility along with the creative landscaping. It will be a great boon to the College and will hopefully see a flow through of enrolments into our Reception class.

The first meeting of the Parent Engagement Committee was also held towards the end of Term One. This is an important new consultative group that enables parents to have a stronger voice in the direction of the College. It was a positive and constructive meeting. We divided the 90 minute meeting into two halves. The first half was an opportunity to inform parents of what was happening around the College, explain improvement plans and to seek feedback on these. The committee was very impressed with the plans to improve the physical and educational dimensions of the College.

They provided rich and excellent feedback on the Parents' and Carers' Commitment Charter which has now been updated to reflect the committee's suggestions (I have attached a draft copy for any further feedback from the community). They were also very positive about the introduction of a Sports Code of Behaviour based on the Australian Institute of Sports version which is set to be launched in the coming weeks. Excellent suggestions were made about signage that could be put out to reinforce the key messages, induction programs for coaches and education programs for students and parents that could be highlighted in the newsletter.

The second half of the meeting was thrown open to the committee to raise concerns or make suggestions. The issues and suggestions raised included:

- Providing more information to parents about student mental health and wellbeing programs (e.g. KidsMatter, MindMatters, bounce Back etc.)

Welcome back

It was great to see the return of the boys to school last week, bringing an empty school back to life again after the two week break. Students are the beating heart of a school and make it an enjoyable privilege to work with and teach—complete with both their challenges and successes.

Term 1 was long for all of us and hopefully students and families have had an opportunity during the holiday break to reflect and discuss the content of their son's report. As students return for Term 2, Pastoral Care teachers (Years 7–12) will conduct an "Academic Reflection" with their students. This reflection allows students to consider strengths, weaknesses, opportunities and threats which can influence their performance. As part of this process, students are required to set some goals and to develop an action plan for the next term. Hopefully the content of the analysis and the overall process is discussed at home. Parents are welcome to contact their son's Pastoral Care teacher should they have any questions.

Parent-Student-Teacher Interview Evenings

The information provided to you about your son's progress on the Term 1 Report may be discussed in greater detail at our Parent-Student-Teacher Interview Evenings.

On the Monday prior to students commencing Term 2, Years 7-12 teachers had the opportunity to meet with boarding families to discuss their sons' academic progress. While the number of boarding families in attendance was lower than last year it was great to see those who were able to attend.

It was encouraging to see so many parents at the first of our evenings for day students yesterday and feedback from both teachers and parents was very positive. The next evening is on Thursday 19 May (surnames M – Z).

Edmund Rice Day

Taking time to celebrate as a family or community, or simply to acknowledge the importance of our traditions and beliefs, without having to justify that in terms of productive use of time, is something we need to take a stand on.

One of the main celebrations of our traditions is the Feast Day of Blessed Edmund Rice (Thursday 5 May). This is a celebration of the life of the founder of our schools, Irishman, Edmund Rice, who became a holy man through the great work of providing schooling to uneducated boys and young men, particularly the poor and disadvantaged. Through the order he founded, the Christian Brother schools were started all over the world, including many in Australia. Thirty eight of these schools now continue under the banner of Edmund Rice Education Australia, the body that now carries on the founder's work, and of which we are all a part.

The depths of poverty in our world remind all of us who live comfortable lives that we must take action to help others. Edmund Rice Day is a time when we come together to celebrate and central to our celebration is our fundraising. The College community celebrated Edmund Rice Day with mass in Purton Hall followed by what we refer to as Unfair Day activities which were organised by our House groups.

Attendance

Regular attendance and participation in schooling is an important factor in academic success. Under the Education Act of South Australia, parents/caregivers are responsible for the regular attendance of all children in their care between the ages of 6 and 16 years and there are legal implications for those parents/caregivers who are unable to demonstrate that they are meeting this responsibility.

Occasionally requests are made by parents/caregivers for students to be absent for long periods, e.g. to accompany the family on an overseas trip or participate in a recognised, non-school organised sporting or cultural activity. In all cases, the Principal must be informed in writing of the extended absence. Furthermore, parents/caregivers of students undertaking SACE studies are asked to contact Kerry Hodkinson (Director – Teaching & Learning) to discuss the implications of the absence on academic progress.

Once the Principal is informed, teachers will be notified. However, we do expect students to discuss any absence with their teachers well prior to the departure date so that arrangements can be made with regard to missed work and compulsory SACE assessment tasks.

According to our Attendance Policy, students are required to attend school or school-based activities, including major College events, on all designated school days in accordance with Legislation, unless otherwise specified. The school must account for every absence of every student and record the reason.

Nevertheless, some parents do give consent for their sons to stay home to revise for a test/exam or complete a task that is due the following day. As we approach the end of semester we tend to see a slight increase in these occurrences. In the busyness of life and as our children become more proficient at arguing their point, it is easy to say "yes", but as parents we need to learn to say "no" to our children.

According to parenting expert, Dr David Walsh, more parents are using "yes" instead of discipline, guidance and standards to appease their children. The result? Children "are experiencing an epidemic I call 'discipline deficit disorder'," says Dr Walsh, the symptoms of which are impatience, consumerism and always wanting more. Dr Walsh suggests that as a consequence, children have become emotionally detached, less considerate, more self-absorbed and unaware of "real world" expectations.

Keeping to deadlines, attendance and punctuality are "real world" expectations and we have a joint responsibility to ensure that your sons develop the necessary skills to meet these expectations through schooling and beyond.

We thank you in anticipation for your support in this matter.

STUDENT WELFARE

Director - Student Welfare

How many dinners have been interrupted by a mobile phone ringing? How many movie watching experiences have been ruined by the constant beeping of a mobile indicating you have mail...or a text message...or a Facebook update.... or a Snapchat, Twitter, Instagram, LinkedIn notification.....got the message???

What was once a buzzword to describe social media users who felt the need to remain constantly 'connected' with what others are doing is now a recognised condition afflicting many of our youth.

The Fear Of Missing Out (FOMO) is leading to increasing levels of anxiety among heavy social media users, particularly adolescents. The finding is one of a number documented in the fifth annual National Stress and Wellbeing in Australia Survey, which has recognised the influence of social media use on wellbeing for the first time.

According to the report by the Australian Psychological Society (APS), one in two Australian teenagers suffer from FOMO.

APS clinical psychologist Andrew Fuller said while there are benefits to using social media, heavy use can be harmful to a person's wellbeing. More than half of all Australian teenagers (56%) are heavy social media users. "Those teens who were heavy users also reported higher levels of FOMO. They report fearing their friends were having more rewarding experiences than them (54%), being worried when they find out their friends are having fun without them (60%), and being bothered when they miss out on a planned get together (63%)."

Led by Dr Heather Cleland Woods of the University of Glasgow, the study suggested parents should ensure children "switch off" at night. Dr Cleland Woods said: "Adolescence can be a period of increased vulnerability for the onset of depression and anxiety, and poor sleep quality may contribute to this." It is important that we understand how social media use relates to these.

Evidence is increasingly supporting a link between social media use and wellbeing, particularly during adolescence, but the causes of this are unclear.

"While overall social media use impacts on sleep quality, those who log on at night appear to be particularly affected. This may be mostly true of individuals who are highly emotionally invested. This means we have to think about how our kids use social media, in relation to time for switching off."

As alluded to, there are clearly identifiable benefits attributed to social media; however we also must balance this with the fact that around the clock access to this media can be extremely detrimental to the health of a teenager. As parents/adults, it is OUR responsibility to ensure that our children are monitored (in terms of how often and how long they access Social Media) and that boundaries are placed around acceptable use.

And yes, parents will at times have to demonstrate some tough love and this may be difficult but the general long term benefits are certainly worth it... and you can guarantee that you won't be alone!

NB: The recently emerged neologism and antonym of FOMO is JOMO (Joy Of Missing Out) - to unplug and turn off.

At Rostrevor College If any student is suffering/ dealing with anxiety and would like to talk to someone in a confidential setting, please encourage them to come and speak with Mr Pertl (College Psychologist). They can make an appointment through Student Services or by emailing talk@rostrevor.sa.edu.au.

JUNIOR CAMPUS

Geoff Aufderheide
Director - Junior Campus

Dear members of the Rostrevor College Community,

The Spirit at Rostrevor College is alive and well. In this, the year of school spirit at Rostrevor College, we challenge ourselves to live the ethos of our school through the charisma of Edmund Rice.

Unfair Day, where we celebrate being a Catholic school in the Edmund Rice tradition, was an outstanding display of spirit and the vibrancy of Rostrevor. The respectful manner in which the boys from the Junior Campus engaged in our R-12 celebration Mass in Purton Hall spoke volumes of their understanding of how they are a part of something much bigger than simply being Rostrevor. This day, as always, is where Edmund Rice schools around Australia join in solidarity to become 'men for others'. Thus, despite the massive sugar hit many of the boys enjoyed after purchases from the huge amount of stalls available, the message was abundantly clear – we are acknowledging that we have a role in supporting those people in our society and beyond who are at the margins. The end result was fantastic (that we raised a great amount of money for those in need) however the message was heard clearly by all, that we stand together to support those in need!

The following day we continued building tradition for future students in the Junior Campus by welcoming our mothers or significant women in our lives, to celebrate them as part of Mother's Day. We enjoyed a liturgy in the College Chapel where we heard from a number of our boys who proclaimed publicly why they loved their Mums. This moment melts the heart of those who attend because it provides our boys with an opportunity to express their real feelings in the presence of others – and that is something unique to an all-boys school like ours where boys feel confident to take such risks in front of their peers. I would like to publicly acknowledge the work of Mr Elias DeGeorge for arranging the liturgy and to our administration staff who supported us as well.

Following the liturgy we invited the mothers and significant women to attend our annual Mother's Day morning tea in the Gold Room of the Whitehouse. The number present continues to grow each year despite this being held during work time for most. This is encouraging and speaks volumes of the support we constantly receive from all of our families.

We also continued to build our tradition in another way and have received an enormous level of support in achieving this from a committed group of our mothers from the Junior Campus. Each year the Parents' and Friends' Committee enables us to hold a Mother's Day stall by financing the purchase of gifts that we sell in our, now annual, Mother's Day stall. For this assistance we thank the P&F and their Chairperson, Mr Rob Costanzo.

The legwork, energy and drive for this to happen each year, however, is a wonderful reflection of the commitment of our parents and caregivers in the Junior Campus. This group is passionately lead by Mrs Nikki Zorzi and Mrs Carla Cerracchio who get out and source affordable gifts for the boys so they can independently shop for their Mums. Nikki and Carla have been nothing short of brilliant in ensuring there is a range of gifts available and spend their own time ensuring this all 'happens' – and they leave no stone unturned to ensure the boys are catered for.

What an exceptional model of service to others and to them both I publicly offer our sincerest thanks and gratitude not only for their work, but the careful way they go about it! Thank you Nikki and Carla – we understand you don't do this for such recognition but we greatly value your energy and willingness to give of yourselves.

I'm sure Nikki and Carla would also like to acknowledge their 'support crew' who have either helped out on the day or in wrapping presents or arranging last minute purchases. Thus I offer our sincerest thanks also to a wonderful and committed group of our mothers in ensuring the overwhelming success of this annual venture. I wish to publicly thank; Olivia Brown, Kate Nybo, Olivia Becker, Enni Marzullo, Karen Costanzo, Meagan Furst, Jumana Hardwarewala, Jo Babic, Fleur Fotheringham, Anna Civitarese-Kelly, Josei Malatesta and Kathleen Carubia. Thank you for your service to our College, the community and to the Junior Campus boys.

The spirit of Rostrevor College and its community lives!

SPIRITUALITY

Br John Ahern
Assistant Principal
Religious Identity and Mission

Last week the term started at a frenetic pace with Edmund rice day on the Thursday. It was a great day of celebration. After two lessons we had Mass which was celebrated by Fr Roderick O'brien from the Salisbury Parish. He is an old scholar having completed year 12 here in 1966. He contributed a simple but powerful homily which was based on the mantra. "Edmund Rice wasn't just nice; he found our reality in Jesus' Spirituality." He had the congregation sing it several times as he gave points in between. As usual the music group led the singing with class. After mass each House had a speaker about a different aspect of Edmund's life and work. There were three Christian Brothers myself, Br Michael Coughlin and Br Barry Donaghue combined with Mr Justin Chung, Mr Geoff Aufderheide and Mrs Andree Brown (Head of Edmund Rice camps). Each year I rotate the speakers so that they hear a different message. During the afternoon the 'Unfair Day' was held to raise moneys for the Indian charities. Hence we enjoyed ourselves while remembering and celebrating a great man's life. Thanks to Mrs Sweeney for coordinating the fair day section.

Last Sunday was the feast of the Ascension. It is the final act on earth of the risen Jesus in returning to god. As St Augustine wrote 'For unless the saviour had ascended into heaven, his Nativity would have come to nothing. His passion would have borne no fruit for us and his Resurrection would have been useless to anyone but himself'. Jesus had gone before us into the darkest places of human reality. He took the cries of the poor and suffering with him to god. So the Ascension is a celebration and an affirmation of the glory and the potential of humanity and our muddled, struggling lives.

Last weekend the Rostrevor grounds were full of excited soccer, football and basketball players with their families and it was great to see so many boys given the opportunities to develop fitness, skill and team-work. The first round of competition went very well with many teams enjoying close contests and many memorable stories were retold in the school yard on Monday morning.

Fixtures Information

All programs have been provided to coaches and are available on the Rostrevor College website, along with weekly maps that will be updated by Wednesday of the week your son is playing at an away venue.

Students are reminded to check their emails or the notice boards outside of my office to see which team they have been selected in as there is often movement of players between teams where A and B divisions exist.

Goal Kickers:

Cameron Ball 2, Mihail Lochowiak, Darcy Fogarty, Harrison Petty, Dylan Fitzsimons, Patrick Dawson, Patrick Shrestha, Adam Rankine, Brad McCarthy, Toby Pink, Mitch Gum 1 each.

Better Players:

Brad McCarthy, Darcy Fogarty, Patrick Shrestha, Mihail Lochowiak, Toby Pink.

Game Summary:

In blustery conditions, the first game of the season was played at home against Pembroke and it was great to have so many supporters at the ground to witness a solid 64 point win. Pembroke came with a great attitude and a desire to make a strong in close contest of the game. As expected being a round 1 game, both teams came with plenty of enthusiasm and energy, but the combination of windy conditions, poor skill execution and decision making by both teams, saw plenty of mistakes and turn overs.

Our first half performance defensively was very good, only conceding 6 inside 50's and only allowing the opposition the 1 solitary point. The opposition were very good at getting numbers to the contest and closing down our space, not allowing us to get any free flow of ball going. Despite this, we were able to go into the long break with a handy 34 point lead.

In the 2nd half, the game opened up a little as players fatigued. As the game went on, particularly in the later stages, we looked to begin to settle more into our game style and roles. We could have rewarded ourselves with a bigger winning margin if not for some erratic forward 50 entries and poor finishing in front of goal.

It was pleasing that most players had sound games and all contributed in their roles at different stages of the game. Some of the consistent players throughout the day were:

Darcy Fogarty & Patrick Shrestha who both gave the opposition problems up forward. Brad McCarthy, Mihail Lochowiak Guy Hutchinson & Flynn Pisani who won plenty of the ball through the midfield. Toby Pink provided the midfield first use of ball in the ruck. Down back Hugh Walker and Dan Fraser were reliable composed defenders.

Congratulations to the 9 boys who played their first 1st 18 game for the College. Also congratulations to the 34 boys selected into our 2016 Rostrevor Football Academy. After only having a few weeks with the boys their attitude towards learning & implementing a new game plan has been terrific. We now just have to execute it a little better. Looking forward to seeing continued improvement over the next few weeks.

In other Co-curricular News:

- Congratulations to year 12 student Brad McCarthy who was named captain of the 1st XVIII football side.
- Congratulations to year 12's Junior Grant, Xavier Cubillo and Ankin Abbott who all represented NT in the State U18's National Football carnival last weekend against Tasmania. Junior has enjoyed a fantastic start to the season and was named 2nd best player on the weekend. The NT side are playing Queensland this weekend and we wish them all the best.
- Junior Grant and Darcy Fogarty as part of their selection into the AIS Level 1 squad played against the New Zealand National men's side in New Zealand on Anzac day. Both players made a positive contribution to the win.

If your son, be he a current or past scholar, has made any significant achievement in an activity outside of the College, please pass this on to me via email to jfischer@rostrrevor.sa.edu.au or by phone, so that I can include his achievements in the weekly newsletter.
